

Defending Health Care in 2017: What's at Stake for Indiana

With a new president and Congress, the health care gains made throughout the last six years face their greatest threat yet. Congress has voted more than 60 times to roll back the historic progress that has been made to expand health coverage to millions of people in this country and to improve coverage for those who already had it. These proposed changes will put the health—and lives—of countless Hoosiers at risk. Here's what Indiana stands to lose if the new president and Congress move forward to upend our health care system:

Hundreds of thousands of Hoosiers stand to lose health coverage

566,000 Hoosiers stand to lose their health coverage.<sup>1</sup>

Indiana stands to lose $19 billion in federal funding for Medicaid, CHIP, and financial assistance for marketplace coverage.<sup>2</sup>

Approximately 139,000 Hoosiers who currently get financial assistance to help pay for their health coverage will lose this help and will no longer have affordable coverage options. In 2016, Hoosiers receiving financial assistance saw their monthly premiums reduced on average $259 thanks to this help.<sup>3</sup>

The now-historically low rate of uninsured people will spike, with the number of uninsured in Indiana increasing 103 percent by 2019.<sup>4</sup> This will reverse the immense progress that has been made to expand coverage. Between 2013 and 2015:

- » The number of uninsured in Indiana declined 31 percent.<sup>5</sup>

- » Working Hoosiers: The uninsured rate among working Hoosiers saw a 29 percent decline.<sup>6</sup>

Repeal will end Indiana's Medicaid expansion and cause ripple effects across the state economy

362,000 people stand to lose health coverage, most of whom are working.<sup>7</sup> The Medicaid expansion has extended health coverage to lower-income Hoosiers who hold down jobs that are the backbone of the state's economy—from fast food workers to home care attendants to construction workers to cashiers. Repeal will leave these hard working Hoosiers out in the cold.

Indiana will lose hundreds of millions in Medicaid funding. Over the course of a year and a half alone, Medicaid expansion brought $610 million in federal dollars into the state economy.<sup>8</sup> The impact of that lost federal Medicaid funding will have a ripple effect throughout the state economy, affecting hospitals, other health care providers, and businesses.

Hoosiers with private health insurance will be stripped of vital protections against discrimination

Approximately 2.8 million Hoosiers with pre-existing conditions like asthma, diabetes, and cancer could once again be denied affordable, comprehensive coverage that actually covers their health care needs.<sup>9</sup>

Women in Indiana will once again be charged more for health coverage just for being a woman.

- » Prior to the Affordable Care Act (ACA), women in Indiana were charged as much as 54 percent more than men for the same coverage.<sup>10</sup>

Hoosiers will once again face a world where insurance plans routinely cap the most they will pay for someone's health care in a year and in their lifetime, effectively cutting off coverage for the sickest individuals when they most need it.

- » Roughly 2.3 million Hoosiers (including 615,000 children) saw lifetime limits on coverage disappear thanks to the ACA's ban on these practices.<sup>11</sup>

Millions of Hoosiers will lose guaranteed coverage of free preventive services, like recommended cancer screenings and vaccines

Approximately 2.9 million Hoosiers with private health coverage (including 628,000 children) and 1.2 million Indiana seniors on Medicare will lose guaranteed access to free preventive care, like blood pressure screenings, immunizations, and cancer screenings.<sup>12, 13</sup>

Insurance companies will no longer be required to put Hoosiers' premiums toward care, not profits

Insurers will no longer be held accountable for using people's premium dollars on care and quality improvement or paying back the difference.

- » Hoosiers have received around $61.9 million in refunds from plans that overcharged for premiums since the ACA took effect.<sup>14</sup>

Hundreds of thousands of seniors and people with disabilities will lose comprehensive drug coverage

The Medicare donut hole will re-open. This will leave Indiana's seniors and people with disabilities with a gap in prescription drug coverage and forced to pay thousands of dollars more in drug costs.

- » Seniors and people with disabilities in Indiana have saved approximately $512 million on drug costs thanks to the ACA's closing the Medicare donut hole.<sup>15</sup>
- » In 2015 alone, approximately 123,000 seniors and people with disabilities in Indiana saved on average $1,035 on drug costs.<sup>16</sup>
