

Defending Health Care in 2017: What's at Stake for South Dakota

With a new president and Congress, the health care gains made throughout the last six years face their greatest threat yet. Congress has voted more than 60 times to roll back the historic progress that has been made to expand health coverage to millions of people in this country and to improve coverage for those who already had it. These proposed changes will put the health—and lives—of countless South Dakotans at risk. Here's what South Dakota stands to lose if the new president and Congress move forward to upend our health care system:

Tens of thousands of South Dakotans stand to lose health coverage

74,000 South Dakotans stand to lose their health coverage.¹

South Dakota stands to lose $1 billion in federal funding for Medicaid, CHIP, and financial assistance for marketplace coverage.²

Approximately 22,000 South Dakotans who currently get financial assistance to help pay for their health coverage will lose this help and will no longer have affordable coverage options. In 2016, South Dakotans receiving financial assistance saw their monthly premiums reduced on average $307 thanks to this help.³

The now-historically low rate of uninsured people will spike, with the number of uninsured in South Dakota increasing 92 percent by 2019.⁴ This will reverse the immense progress that has been made to expand coverage. Between 2013 and 2015:

- » The number of uninsured in South Dakota declined 10 percent.⁵
- » Working South Dakotans: The uninsured rate among working South Dakotans saw a 14 percent decline.⁶

Repeal would put care for South Dakotans who rely on Medicaid at risk

Approximately 120,000 people, or 14 percent of the state's population, rely on Medicaid for their health insurance.^{7,8} This includes hundreds of thousands of people with disabilities, kids, seniors, and pregnant women. Without Medicaid, most of these South Dakotans will have no access to affordable care or long-term care.

We don't know what Congress has in store for the country's Medicaid program. But whatever they have in store will affect South Dakota's Medicaid program. We also know that a vote to repeal the ACA will throw the nation's entire health care system into chaos, putting Medicaid recipients at serious risk.

South Dakotans with private health insurance will be stripped of vital protections against discrimination

Approximately 346,000 South Dakotans with pre-existing conditions like asthma, diabetes, and cancer could once again be denied affordable, comprehensive coverage that actually covers their health care needs.⁹

Women in South Dakota will once again be charged more for health coverage just for being a woman.

- » Prior to the Affordable Care Act (ACA), women in South Dakota were charged as much as 48 percent more than men for the same coverage.¹⁰

South Dakotans will once again face a world where insurance plans routinely cap the most they will pay for someone's health care in a year and in their lifetime, effectively cutting off coverage for the sickest individuals when they most need it.

- » Roughly 295,000 South Dakotans (including 82,000 children) saw lifetime limits on coverage disappear thanks to the ACA's ban on these practices.¹¹

Hundreds of thousands of South Dakotans will lose guaranteed coverage of free preventive services, like recommended cancer screenings and vaccines

Approximately 392,000 South Dakotans with private health coverage (including 86,000 children) and 156,000 South Dakotan seniors on Medicare will lose guaranteed access to free preventive care, like blood pressure screenings, immunizations, and cancer screenings.^{12, 13}

Thousands of seniors and people with disabilities will lose comprehensive drug coverage

The Medicare donut hole will re-open. This will leave South Dakota's seniors and people with disabilities with a gap in prescription drug coverage and forced to pay thousands of dollars more in drug costs.

- » Seniors and people with disabilities in South Dakota have saved approximately $49 million on drug costs thanks to the ACA's closing the Medicare donut hole.¹⁴
- » In 2015 alone, approximately 14,000 seniors and people with disabilities in South Dakota saved on average $910 on drug costs.¹⁵
